

This is a brief adendum to my previous comment:

I would also like to state that on examination of the comments regarding this issue, I was unable to find a single individual citizen that was in favor of dropping the media ownership restrictions. Most (all that I saw) are vehemently opposed to a lifting of current restrictions. The only postings I saw in favor are those posted by media corporations, that will benefit either by selling out or buying up, and these were in crippling minority. If this relaxation of rules passes it will be the last straw for me and many others who still retain (limited) confidence that our government is capable of representing its citizens above and beyond corporate giants.
